RSC Economic Recovery Act Endorsed by Taxpayer Groups

Washington, D.C. – The Economic Recovery Act, the Republican Study Committee’s pro-growth solution to our economic downturn, now has the backing of several organizations devoted to looking out for the people most affected by Speaker Nancy Pelosi’s government spending spree - taxpayers. Thanks to the sensible long-term solutions laid out in the Economic Recovery Act, major taxpayer groups have rallied around the RSC’s call to lower taxes, reduce government spending, and decrease the burden that the government places on entrepreneurs and businesses.

Here are just a few of the words of support for the Economic Recovery Act from highly-regarded organizations:

“The RSC’s tax cuts are sorely needed in this environment. Currently, businesses are burdened by an above average corporate tax rate and investors have little reason to go near the stock market...If you want to encourage economic growth, you need legislation that will change incentives and give people a reason to invest, produce, and hire more workers.” – Pat Toomey, President, Club for Growth

“By stepping forward with a limited government economic stimulus package, the RSC is helping to keep the torch of freedom burning bright. While it is likely the Democrats will ram through their own, bloated, big – government stimulus, people will see as we begin to slip deeper into recession that the bold ideas of the RSC, centered on freedom and empowering the individual, are the only true way towards economic recovery.” – Dick Armey, Chairman, FreedomWorks

“Unlike other so-called ‘stimulus’ ideas supported by the Pelosi-Obama-Reid troika, the ideas contained in your bill set the stage for strong growth in 2009 and permanently after that...Your bill should be the conservative alternative to trillion-dollar bailouts and massive spreading of wealth.” – Grover Norquist, Chairman, Americans for Tax Reform

“The best way to jump start the economy now is through immediate tax relief for American families and businesses. Reducing the tax burden now on individuals and institutions will ensure long-term economic prosperity later.” – National Taxpayers’ Union
